

© 2013 Drake Smith - Please do not use or reproduce this elsewhere. Feel free to link to it though.

Replace Fuel Level Sender Connector

A somewhat common point of failure for K bikes' electrical system is that the connector for the fuel level sender becomes flaky. One solution to this problem is to replace the connector with a four lead SAE trailer wiring harness connector. One of the common ones available comes with white, yellow, green and brown wires which is pretty close to the wiring for a K bike's wiring colors.

© 2013 Drake Smith - Please do not use or reproduce this elsewhere. Feel free to link to it though.